Personal Description: I am extrovert, energetic and optimistic person who is crazy about adventures and not afraid to accept the challenges life offers. I adore cooking, it's my world, I can spend whole day in the kitchen. 90% of my memory is music lyrics, but remember my memory max is 200%☺. Deadlines are important to me, I'm never behind them. I'm keen on travelling and meeting new people from all over the world

Hobbies: Culinary, learning languages, Mandala art, singing, hiking, swimming and psychology.

Favourite Music and Movies: I can't say that I'm listener of specific genre of music; I like just about any kind of music if it's played well. There are a few exceptions, but overall I've come to the point where the talent of a fine musician can transcend genre. Mostly my playlist consist of blues, classical, electronic, hip hop, jazz, funk, rock and pop music. As for the movies my favourites are usually comedies or something with a positive or uplifting message, also psychological movies that force me to use my brain and activate my thinking process.

The craziest thing I've done in my life: I love extreme, so tried bungee jumping, it was unexpected and unplanned, and it was quite crazy and full of adrenaline experience.

Things I like: Travelling and spending spare time with my friends. My fascination is culinary, that's where I see myself in the future, I like multicoloured clothes and accessories, concretely I have obsession of colourful socks☺.

Things I don't like: insolent and dissembler people, also unfairness.

What I expect from host family: I will do my best to make cosy and pleasant environment for them as I will be their temporary family member and waiting to get same back, also expect them to be my new family.

Life Motto: Don't follow your dream, just lead them.
